Payments and benefits we receive

You can pay for the services you receive on a fee for advice basis. This allows you to know that you are paying for our advice irrespective of any product you use, clarifies the services you are entitled to, and ensures all recommendations are driven by your needs.

We will agree with you the amount you pay based upon:

- a flat dollar fee;
- an hourly rate;
- the amount you invest; or
- a combination of the above.

You can pay in the following ways:

- as a fee for advice that will be deducted from your investments as a one-off payment or in instalments;
- by direct invoice from us for initial and ongoing advice;
- via commission (only where we take over servicing rights on an existing insurance policy or other product that has commission built in, we will rebate any commission received off your annual fee);
- a combination of the above.

Other payments we may receive

We will provide you with details of all fees, commissions or other benefits we may receive when we provide advice to you and, where possible, will give actual dollar amounts. If we cannot provide this accurately, we will provide worked-dollar examples.

Even if you don't receive personal financial advice from us, you can still request the details of any fees, commissions or other benefits we receive in relation to any other financial service we provide you.

Other forms of remuneration or benefits

Woodbury and/or its advisers may receive non-monetary or alternative forms of remuneration such as when:

- The amount is less than $100 and identical and similar benefits are not given on a frequent basis; and
- The benefit has an education or training purpose for our professional development (including attendance to conferences).

We maintain a register detailing any benefit that we receive. The register is publicly available upon request.

Referrals

At present we do not have any referral arrangement in place to pay a third party referrer a referral fee, commission or other benefit nor do we receive payments or other benefits from a third party referrer. If this changes, we will make you aware of this prior to providing advice, or further advice, to you.

How we charge for our services

Full Fee-for-Service

Woodbury Financial Services is a full fee-for-service firm that rebates all commissions to its clients. This extends to banking products (including loans & all associated debt products) and personal insurance products (e.g., Life, TPD, Trauma, Income Protection). We are paid for advice, management and long term client relationship, not for selling products.

Fee Structure

The fee structure used by Woodbury Financial Services is comprised of 3 key elements:

Retainer – this includes a range of services which together help build the foundation for a long term relationship with clients. This is critically important to achieve an intimate knowledge of our clients' financial arrangements for which leading edge solutions can be found.

Strategic Solutions – combining internal expertise and external specialist providers to provide smart financial solutions not readily available in the mainstream adviser market.

Multi-Family Office – bringing it all together as an integrated financial solution that is tailored to your specific needs and objectives. We project manage all the various parts of your overall financial strategy so that you are freed from the burden of having to maintain multiple relationships with multiple advisers and service providers. Together, these components form the basis for the professional service fees charged by WFS.

Fee Range

The typical range for professional service fees to private clients is between $10,000 and $100,000 pa. The actual fee quoted will depend on the scope and complexity of services provided. Professional fees charged for business engagements and work for other formal entities (e.g., government, foundations etc) are quoted on a case-by-case basis and may exceed this range depending on the nature of work involved.

Fixed Term Engagement

Woodbury Financial Services operates on a fixed term engagement basis. Our professional service fees are quoted in dollar terms, not percentage of assets. For new clients, the first 'Discovery' meeting is free of charge. At the second 'Scope & Engagement' meeting you will typically be presented with a Terms of Engagement letter that sets out the scope of services, fees and charges, terms and conditions under which Woodbury's will act as your Private Wealth Adviser.

If you proceed to engage with Woodbury's you will typically have the option of paying your total Professional Service Fee for the year either upfront or spread across the 12-month period – part as a monthly retainer and part as an upfront payment due on presentation of your Statement of Advice (i.e., Payable at your Advice Presentation Meeting – typically the third meeting).

For existing or review clients, once the initial 12 month period is finished, you will be provided with a new Terms of Engagement under which Woodbury's will continue to act as your adviser for the next 12 month period, and so on. At the end of each 12 month engagement period, it is entirely your decision as to whether you want to re-engage and continue your relationship with Woodbury's.

We believe this annual re-engagement cycle, and dollar-based fee framework, better aligns our interests to those of our clients, i.e., if we do not generate value for our clients, help them frame their long-term objectives clearly, help them move closer toward achieving them each year, and service their needs in a thorough, professional manner – then we simply will not have clients re-engaging with us. However, the fact that we have a long track record of highly satisfied clients and outstanding advice and service (going back to 1985), proves that we do just that.

Third Parties

In the event that we are required to engage expert third-party specialists on your behalf (e.g., Estate Planning or Strategic Tax Advice), the cost of third-party services will be confirmed and agreed with you prior to commencement of any additional work. This third party fee will be invoiced separately by the external provider in question (third party fees do not form part of our own professional service fee) and is typically payable on presentation of their advice.

Insurance Products

We do not receive commissions either directly or indirectly from any life insurance products that we establish for you, however, if we take over servicing rights on an existing policy that does pay commission we will either rebate any commission received off your annual fee, or rebate directly to you (whichever you prefer).

Privacy Notification

At Woodbury Financial Services, the privacy of your personal information is important to us. Any personal information collected will be handled in accordance with our Privacy Policy. To provide you with our services, we maintain a record of the information you provide to us.

Our Privacy Policy contains more information about how to access and correct the information we hold about you and how to make a privacy related complaint, including how we deal with it. Ask us for a copy by contacting us on 02 9869 1933, or visiting our website www.woodburyfs.com.au/resources
